Today, we are going to worship Shiva Tattva within us, principle of Shiva. For all Sahaja Yogis it's very important, because Shiva is the ultimate we have to achieve. Shiva is represented in our Spirit, so to become Shiva is the ultimate aim of every [creation]. The rest of it is all created, like Vishnu Tattva and Brahmadeva, just to create human beings, to evolve them and then ultimately lead them to Shiva. That's the ultimate. But human beings get so involved into the Brahmadeva's Tattvas that even to get into Vishnu Tattva is difficult. They get involved into the five elements which have created us. That is the outermost being within us. All the chakras have the outermost, we can say the, just the vessel, but the desire to be the Spirit is of primary importance in Sahaja Yoga. So we have to see inward towards ourselves as Sahaja Yogis, "Do we have that desire entirely, or we have still many desires hanging around?"
